

SEE THE SEA

Will Burles

Antarctic historic explorations battling the sea

Ernest Shackleton - Endurance

The ship was trapped in pack ice
during the 1914
imperial Transantarctic expedition and sank

Me and the sea: then

- ▣ Sand castles
- ▣ Crabbing
- ▣ Naive to danger

The sea in art

- Wilson Steer - Walberswich, children paddling
- Very similar to my childhood experiences at the sea

Claude Monet – Rocks at Port-Coton

Me and the sea: Now

Current Antarctic explorations

- ▣ Improved technology in clothing and transport
- ▣ Why not take a cruise holiday for under £8,000?
- ▣ Captain Robert Falcon Scott had ponies and an experimental motorised ski tractor

In Summary

- ▣ As times change... so do our endeavor's to achieve.
- ▣ Expectations have become far greater
- ▣ Our knowledge is deeper and therefore we can understand dangers we face.
- ▣ The way we see things changes, whether it's a risk factor of the sea or just something trivial such as our peers.
